EVERGREEN ENGINEERING CONTINUES CORPORATE EXPANSION INTO BOISE, ID

(BOISE, ID) May 22, 2007 – Headquartered in Eugene, Oregon, Evergreen Engineering (Evergreen) has expanded its engineering and construction services into Boise, Idaho, with an office space located at 250 Bobwhite Court, Suite 340. Debbie Martin at DK Commercial represented the lessee. Linda Cockerham of Select Commercial Properties represented the lessor.

“We recognize the technical needs of our clients, and we’ve strategically opened a local office to meet those demands,” stated Dan Mejdell, Principal at Evergreen Engineering. “Not only will we support them, but we look forward to developing rapport with local partners and suppliers as well.” Mejdell is based in Boise, and is the local managing principal.

Evergreen has nationwide offices located in Eugene, OR; Hillsboro, OR; Atlanta, GA; Santa Clara, CA; Boise, ID; and Albany, NY. With clients throughout the United States and Canada, Evergreen currently employs over 100 full-time workers, comprised of principals, professional engineers, construction managers, designers, drafters, and administrative personnel – 85% hold college degrees, 10% hold advanced degrees. The firm anticipates its growth pattern to continue throughout 2007.

Established in 1985, Evergreen Engineering is an engineering and construction firm serving various industries such as bioscience, clean manufacturing, high-tech and wood products. Evergreen has a reputation of listening to clients’ objectives and being able to handle projects other firms would not consider.
