Premium Winery Design & Construction

Pacific Wineries has over 40 years of experience in winery design, engineering, and construction management. We have developed innovative winery designs and construction techniques for a wide range of clients and facilities both locally and abroad. We are unique in the Northwest in that our team can supply the design, manage the construction and procure and install the equipment necessary to make your winery successful – we provide a single point of contact for your winery or cellar construction project from start to finish.

In spite of the range of services we offer, Pacific Wineries remains a small company that will provide you with personalized, professional service. You will have a single project manager to assist you in meeting your goal of building and operating a unique Northwest winery, or adding to and remodeling your existing facility.
